

Holy

Look into the sky and pray
There will come a better day
Everything was made this way
We never got to have our say

Release yourself from any guilt
It wasn't your decision
Put your faith in someone else
Holy

No matter what you do
It's never up to you
Your mind was never poised
To come up with a better choice

Believe and trust your fate
And you'll get salvation later
The promises are great
But the suffering is greater

Release yourself from any guilt
It wasn't your decision
Put your faith in someone else
Holy

You sacrifice the here & now
And hope for something better
When really all you see & feel
Is Holy

Release yourself from any guilt
It wasn't your decision
Put your faith in someone else
Holy, Holy

You sacrifice the here & now
And hope for something better
When really all you see & feel
Is Holy, Holy, Holy

